St. Nicholas of Tolentine Catholic Academy in Jamaica offers classes for children from three years old to eighth grade, including Pre-K for All. The academy's Catholic identity is the cornerstone of its existence, based on the values of faith, hope and charity. The doors are open to children of all faiths as the academy believes these values to be universal.

St. Nicholas of Tolentine Catholic Academy follows the curriculum of the New York State Board of Regents based on the Common Core Curriculum. Teachers continually upgrade their professional qualifications and plan class instruction based on the needs of their students.

The academy believes that technology is an essential component of a 21st century education, and the school building houses a modern computer lab, iPads and Chromebooks for both direct instruction and student use, and SMARTBoards in all classrooms.

In order to succeed in the global economy, the academy realizes its students will need enhanced skills in science, technology and math. To that end, instruction is offered in computer graphics, and a robotics program allows students to learn computer programming in an enjoyable and tangible way.

Thanks to a cooperative effort with St. John's University, the academy enhances its curriculum with speech and language evaluation and remediation, assistance with student literacy in the primary grades and math enrichment in the middle grades.

Opportunities are provided for social growth, and include field trips, student dances and student government.
