POPE FRANCIS — 1936-2025

A 291,000-Mile Journey Of Faith and Solidarity

by Paula Katinas, Senior Reporter

It's not known if Pope Francis ever suffered from jet lag, but the Holy Father logged a lot of air miles during his papacy, traveling to dozens of countries to spread the message of Jesus Christ's love of The pontiff covered an estimated 291,000 miles in his 12-year papacy. That's roughly the equivalent of circumnavigating the globe 11 times.

One of those papal journeys included a visit to New York City in 2015, during which he stepped foot in the Diocese of Brooklyn. Pope Francis came to New York from Washington, D.C., where he had add
